The Hotel Concorde Berlin offers luxury hotel service with a distinctly French accent, with art, architecture and design creating an air of 'savoir-vivre', or the art of living. Designed inside and out by renowned Berlin architect Jan Kleihues, the hotel is characterised by elegant, understated design. The simple, minimalist interiors are enhanced by sophisticated lighting, warm colours and contemporary artwork.

Centrally located just off the fashionable Kurfürstendamm in the heart of the City West, it is opposite the Kranzler Eck, only 100 metres from the Kaiser Wilhelm Memorial Church, and within walking distance of the Zoologischer Garten.
